Today's Corporate Challenge

In today's competitive business environment, keeping track of information, and more importantly ensuring that the right information is available to your staff wherever they are is always a challenge. Today, workers are more mobile than ever and need information to be available to them anywhere, anytime, allowing them to be out of the office, but not out of the loop.

A more predictive, proactive approach to your employee environment can help you maximize individual productivity and deliver tangible business value. Your employees deliver the quality of your business, and sound procedures are the catalyst to drive their success. Ensuring you have a solid foundation supports this.

Clayko Group specializes in delivering innovative business solutions to meet today's corporate challenges. Solutions that achieve results, bring order and process to employee activities and drive productivity within your business.

Clayko Groups Solutions

Clayko Group, an Australian company, has been providing IT systems and services to Australian business and government since 1981. Our core services of document management and scanning in a hosted environment, are complemented with a range of the latest technologies, all of which can be tailored to meet your specific business needs.

Clayko recognises IT solutions must be closely linked to business processes - but with flexibility to enable innovation - to improve effectiveness of the systems and services that connect customers, partners and suppliers. As a Microsoft Gold Partner, we stand at the forefront of innovation.

Furthermore, we are able to offer the option of running services in a hosted environment. No complex IT infrastructure required. Simply access your systems with an internet browser and internet connection. A hosted solution means you pay only for usage, without the capital costs of hardware and licensing, and the overhead costs of technical infrastructure and staff. Our hosted services make technologies and solutions affordable to any sized organization, no matter how small or how large.

With your workforce and client base more mobile than ever, Clayko provides systems and services to ensure that your clients will receive the best service and support at all times.
